VENUE

Lyngby Kulturhus, Klampenborgvej 215 B, 2800 Lyngby (<http://www.lyngby-kulturhus.dk>).

It's pantomime season once again – oh, yes it is! Come in from the cold and enjoy Copenhagen Theatre Circle's fourth traditional British pantomime, which this year is based on Hans Christian Andersen's fairytale The Snow Queen and will take full advantage of the new, larger stage of Lyngby Kulturhus.

A British pantomime (often affectionately known as a "panto") does not actually involve any miming: it's nearly always based on a familiar children's fairytale. The cast always includes a "principal boy" (often played by a girl), a "principal girl" (played by a pretty girl), a "dame" (played by a man), a villain, a good fairy and usually an animal.

This new version of The Snow Queen follows the adventures of Kai and Gerda, who believe they are both far too old for fairytales, especially the streetwise Kai – until their grandmother tells them the tale of The Snow Queen. They find themselves getting caught up in the story when the Snow Queen's half-baked henchman Jack Frost comes a-calling ...

Fun, excitement and lot of chills and thrills for everyone from age 5 to 105, with high-energy theatre, singing, dancing, audience participation and even some cross-dressing!

Audience members at the Saturday matinee will be invited to meet the cast immediately after the performance.
